I HELP BUSINESSES CREATE ADS WHICH GRAB THEIR AUDIENCE BY THE THROAT AND FORCE THEM TO CLICK

RESUME FOR THE ROLE OF:

CREATIVE STRATEGIST

(AND A CRAZY TASTY GOURMET DINNER OFFER INCLUDED)

Before we get into all of the good stuff…

Just like the Dalmatians from the motion picture, there are 101 reasons that you should hire me.

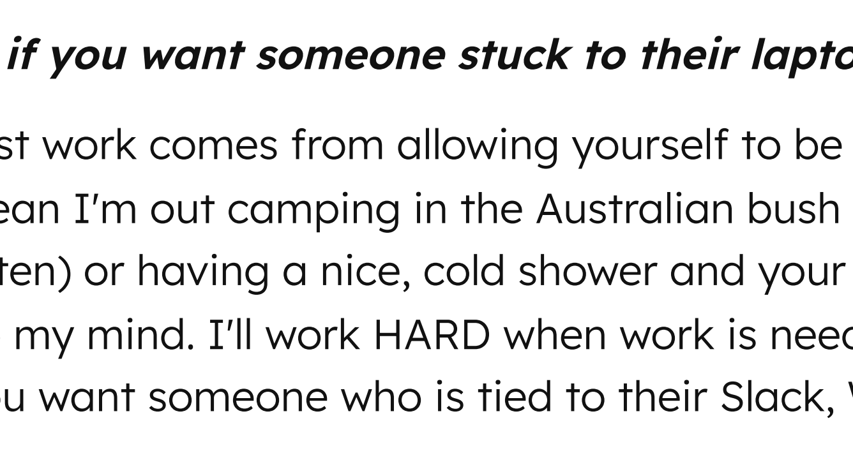
But I want to be upfront with you about…

3 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD NOT HIRE ME:

1) DO NOT hire me if you need someone with 16 years of experience and who has taught their kids and pets to manage and create ads

I don't have over a decade of time in the trenches. What I do have is personal experience in Meta Ads Manager, with my own ecommerce brands. I'm hungry and passionate about helping brands scale and this role would be my absolute #1 priority. If ticking boxes on a resume or with past wins feels like a better choice than someone obsessed with you winning now then I'm the wrong hire.

2) DO NOT hire me if you need another body to fill a role or be a "yes man"



Jim Carrey from the movie Yes Man, being a fool.

Unfortunately, if I see something wrong with your ads, hooks, offers, angles or any of the above aspects of your marketing funnels and strategy in general, I will say so respectfully and directly. If you want a "yes man" who can simply take orders and not push back when something will genuinely impact your business, I'm not your guy.

3) DO NOT hire me if you want someone stuck to their laptop 24/7

I believe that the best work comes from allowing yourself to be in a true flow state. Sometimes that'll mean I'm out camping in the Australian bush (yes, I do genuinely do that often) or having a nice, cold shower and your next best ad creative will come to my mind. I'll work HARD when work is needed and rest hard on my time off. If you want someone who is tied to their Slack, WhatsApp or laptop 24/7, sorry…

GREAT. I'M GLAD WE GOT THAT SORTED.

If you're still reading, I'm going to assume we're on the same page.

Amazing.

Now, if I had to guess, you've probably read a half dozen resumes today which sound like AI and Elon Musk had a baby and they named it "Slop Xavier the 4th".

Here's why this one is different.

If you hire me and I do not impress you or beat your best ad creatives or fulfil the role of Creative Strategist…

(As promised at the beginning of this resume)

I WILL BUY YOU AND YOUR ENTIRE EXECUTIVE TEAM A JUICY, SUCCULENT GOURMET DINNER (COMPLETELY ON ME)

Obviously this is insane for 3 reasons:

1) I have no idea who your company is or how big they are. So I could really be shooting myself in the foot by doing this…

2) I do not know what ads you're running, their current CAC, CTR or ROAS or any of the above. I'm going off pure adrenaline, coffee and confidence.

3) I am assuming you're not also based in Brisbane, Australia. So, instead, I will send you the cash personally haha. Deal?

OKAY, SO WHAT ALLOWS ME TO MAKE SUCH A WILDLY BOLD CLAIM?

It's rather simple. While other ad specialists get thrown into Meta Ads manager and into creative strategy feeling like they're bashing their head against the wall…

I'm already all over it with my 3-step "Throat Grabber Ad Engine™":

A) Step 1 - The Pool Cleaner: Just like a pool cleaner crawls over every square inch of the bottom of a pool, I've got AI bots which I've trained to crawl all over the internet to figure out what your customers are really thinking about. What they're feeling. What their mum said to them when they were 12 years old and asked for an ice cream and she said no… You get the point. I know the market inside and out before I write a single word.

B) Step 2 - Fishermen Hate To See Him Coming: Let's be real. An ad creative lives or dies by the hook. And to get hooks which even the most illustrious fishermen would fight you over, I've created a system which finds out exactly what would grab your ideal customer and forces them to stare at what comes next.

C) Step 3 - Revival Mechanism: Once the market is understood and the hook is sorted out, I use a combination of AI tools and incredible graphics-design skills to put together hooks and creatives which make it physically uncomfortable to scroll away.

I won't (and don't) reinvent the wheel. I take your audience's own words, beliefs, and fears and supercharge them into creatives that feel like something they would already like, comment or share.

EXHIBIT A: THE BOOKED CALL ENGINE I BUILT

219 booked calls in 5 weeks RESULT
For Kishan's DJ coaching brand, DJ Accelerator. I built the whole engine from scratch. The ads, the VSL pages, the application form, the call booking, and the emails that make sure people actually turn up.

343 applications, and 62% came off one reel I made RESULT
The form scores every application, so Meta only hears about the DJs who qualify. That way the ads go out and find more people who can ACTUALLY afford the program.

One reel: £2,048 spent, 492 leads at £4.16, 7.99% CTR RESULT
The "You're way too old" talking head reel. It took more than half of the account's spend and carried the whole thing.

51 booked calls at £15.50 each in the latest 5 weeks RESULT
By then Meta was only counting a booked sales call as a result, for a US$2,500 to $6,000 program.

For DJs who reckon they've left it too late. This page has brought in 223 applications on its own.

For the doctor or accountant who DJs on weekends and wants to take it seriously, while keeping the day job.

VSL page: "This Firefighter Had 365 Followers and Played Ibiza" LANDING PAGE + VSL
Leads with the story of a firefighter who had 365 followers and still ended up on a stage in Ibiza.

The 3 VSL scripts GOOGLE DOC
All three scripts written out in full. Each one has the strategy brief above it. So you can see who it's for and why it opens the way it does.

Booked Call Sequence, 3 emails KIT SEQUENCE + AUTOMATION
The emails that go out after someone books a sales call. I hooked Calendly up to Kit so they fire the second the call gets booked. The number I cared about was how many people actually turned up.

EXHIBIT B: THE OTHER BRANDS I MAKE ADS FOR

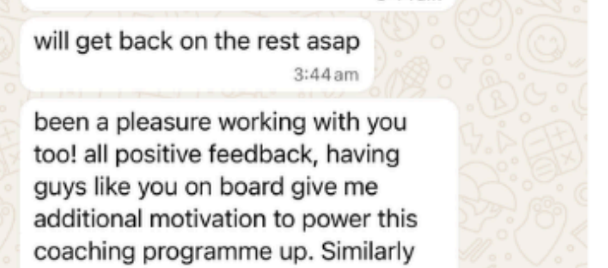
Rovella, UK kids supplement LEAD CREATIVE STRATEGIST
15 briefs a week, each one 1 body with 3 hooks. So 45 ads a week with full scripts and media buying direction. Plus a 30-page research doc built from 3,000 customer comments.

Creator24, Australian SaaS app HEAD OF ADVERTISING
An app that gets UGC creators paid brand deals. I run the creative strategy and the media buying for their Scout24 ads to talent managers.

PureTest, Australian men's health supplement LAUNCH
8 launch statics, the ad copy and the launch campaign.

Simon Squibb, live test: 127 sign-ups at £1.54 RESULT
A live campaign through Sean Ferres' CMB course. 5th of 26 strategists, against a £1.87 campaign average. The media buyer's report is just below.

EXHIBIT C:

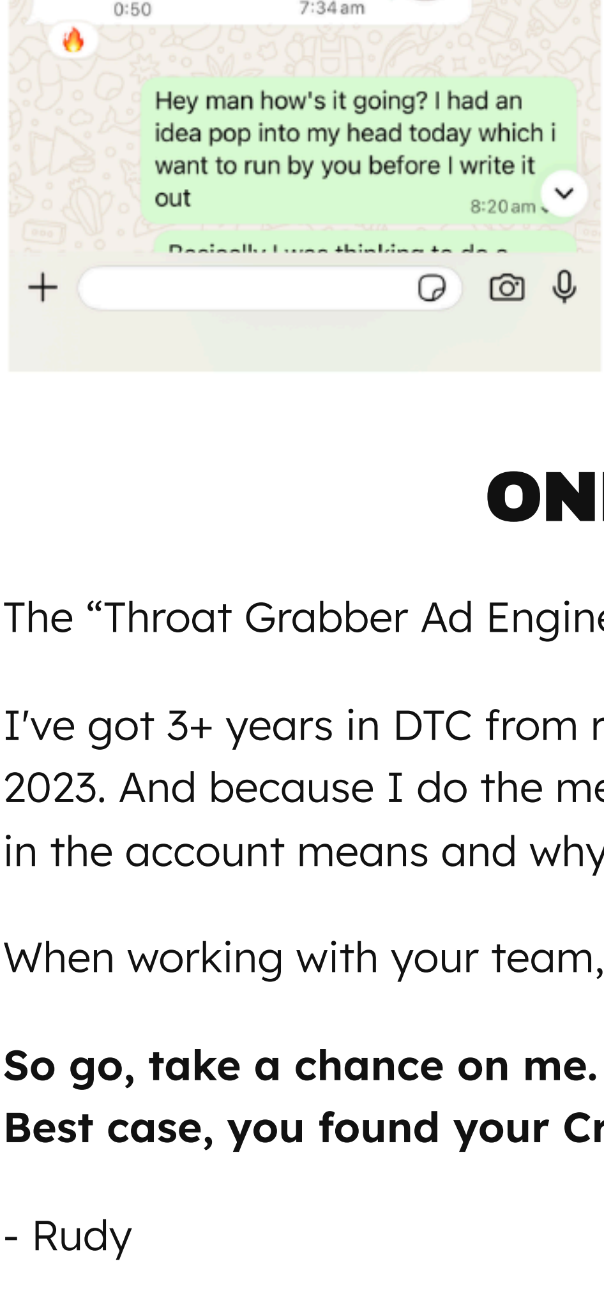


1mpact media. CMB R4 STUDENT TESTS

STUDENT TEST	SPEND	REGS.	COST / REG.	FTS
Rudy Goel	£195.07	127	£1.54	1

The media buyer's report from Simon Squibb's live campaign. Their maximum allowable cost was £5 per lead.

EXHIBIT D:



Your VA - yeah that would be amazing if you recommend her - pls could you intro us? do you pay her hourly / via a platform or she invoices? 3:44am will get back on the rest asap 3:44am

been a pleasure working with you too! all positive feedback, having guys like you on board give me additional motivation to power this coaching programme up. Similarly I'd love your feedback on how things are going. Also if there's roles/ skillsets you want to bring in, where you'd see this going for you so I can ensure we keep building your role out in the way you want! 3:45am

Hey man how's it going? I had an idea pop into my head today which i want to run by you before I write it out 8:20am

Kishan (runs multi 6-figure coaching brand) confirming that my work has been incredible for them

ONE MORE THING

The "Throat Grabber Ad Engine™" isn't the whole deal.

I've got 3+ years in DTC from running 5 of my own ecom stores between 2020 and 2023. And because I do the media buying too, I know exactly what every number in the account means and why an ad is winning or losing.

When working with your team, I'll be hitting the ground running.

So go, take a chance on me. Worst case your whole team gets a free dinner. Best case, you found your Creative Strategist.
